McClellan Gets Figures From the Board of Education-Now Waiting to Hear What Relief They Suggest-Then He Will Have Some Suggestions.

President Rogers of the Board of Education reported yesterday to Mayor McClellan in answer to the Mayor's request for schoo statistics that 514,425 children of school age are registered in the greater city and 90,195 are on half time. Mr. Rogers said that the new schools to be opened this year will provide 49,050 sittings and those to be opened next year 40,850 sittings.

Commenting on Mr. Rogers's report the Mayor said Referring to the suggestion in my letter, as to the erection of temporary school buildings, and of the opportunity afforded by the Small Parks act, President Rogers says: "You will permit me to thank you for making what appears to be a most valuable and timely suggestion for relieving the public schools

"you will permit me to thank you for making what appedrs to be a most valuable and timely suggestion for relieving the public schools in the congested neighborhoods. I can assure you that it will receive the most careful consideration at the hands of the Board of Education. I hope to be able to lay before your Honor, in a few days, the results of the deliberations of the board upon the plan which your Honor has proposed."

By the completion of schools now under way, 49,050 additional sittings will be provided between September and December. This would make the total number of sittings, next fall, 473,280. The increasing attendance, bringing the total register (estimated), up up to 550,159, will still leave 76,859 pupils in part time classes. Nor will the situation be improved in September, 1905, when, according to the estimate of the board of Education, 40,850 additional sittings will be ready, for, increasing at the rate of 7 per cent., the attendance will advance to 588,648, leaving 74,518 children to be cared for in part time classes.

When I have been advised by the Board.

when I have been advised by the Board of Education of what measures of relief they may offer or approye, I shall have some suggestions to make.

Comptroller Grout said vesterday that he hoped to have the reports of his experts who are investigating the Board of Education's expenditures for supplies some time next week. He added:

Mr. Lummis and other members of the "Mr. Lummis and other members of the board seem to take the position that I am the one person responsible for what they call a cut in their budget. In the first place, their budget was not cut at all. They get nearly $600,000 more for this year than they did for last. The Board of Estimate, by unanimous vote, cut down their estimate, not their allowance. And the board was unanimous. Mayor Low and President Swanstrom, both men of great experience in educational administration, voted for in educational administration, voted for the reduced appropriation. I am not more responsible than other members of the conference they had, admitted that $250,000 could be saved by economies in the expenditures from the special fund.

"No reputable business enterprise would stand for the methods used by the Board of Education," Mr. Grout said. "In the purchase of supplies, the making of re-pairs, in the acquisition of sites and in many other ways the funds entrusted to the Roard of Education have been loosely administered. I am convinced that I shall be able to prove all that I have asserted to the New York State Board of Pharmacy at their annual meeting in Albany this week there were 405 violations in 1903 of the State Pharmacy laws. More than three-fourths were in the city of New York. A noticeable feature of the report is the splendid showing of the department stores.

DRUG ADULTERATION CASES. Out of 405 Not One Found in a Department

Store by the Board of Pharmacy. According to the report made by Dr. George C. Dickman, chairman of the committee on adulteration and substitution.

Complaints from druggists that certain of these large houses were selling drugs at prices so low as to put purity out of the question, led the Board of Pharmacy to investigate. Not a single violation was found among the samples taken from the The report for the eastern branch of the

State, comprising Westchester county the city of New York and Long Island, shows that of 210 samples of tincture of iodine taken from various druggists, 103 differed from the standard; in 120 sample of spirits of camphor there were 42 samples below standard; in 159 samples of soap liniment, 44 below standard; in 48 samples of mercurial ointment, 13 below standard; in 137 samples of camphorated oil, 74 below standard, and in 36 samples of tincture of opium 14 below standard.

A bad sample can be counted as only one violation of the law, but in several of the above cases a single sample was found to fall below the standard in more than one respect. For example, in the case of spirits of camphor several samples were found which not only were lacking in the proper proportion of camphor, but which were made up with wood alcohol, the very dangerous and cheaper substitute for grain

Of the 197 samples of tincture of iodine, spirits of camphor and soap liniment pur-chased in the first half of the year, 46, or 23.4 per cent., were found to contain wood alcohol. In the last half of the year conditions were somewhat improved, only 48 samples out of 292, or 16.4 per cent., containing wood alcohol.

According to the samples assayed, 35.5 per cent. of the druggists in the city of New York were violators of the law against substitution and adulteration. In addition to these, the board prosecuted many druggists for failure to comply with the law requiring annual registration of drug stores, and still others for allowing non-licensed clerks to run their stores. Presecution of delinquent druggists in 1903 yielded more than $20,000 in fines in the eastern branch alone.

The board elected these officers for 1904:

Willis G. Gregory, Buffalo, general president; W. L. Bradt, Albany, general secretary; C. O. Bigelow, New York, chairman of eastern branch; C. S. Erb, New York, secretary of eastern branch; George H. Merritt, Newburgh, chairman of middle branch; Warren L. Bradt, secretary of middle branch; S. A. Grove, Buffalo, chairman of western branch, and George Reimann, Buffalo, secretary of western

BANK OFFICERS SENTENCED. Twining and Cornell Get Three Years Each

-Will Appeal. FREEHOLD, N. J., Jan. 7 .- Albert C. Twining and David C. Cornell, ex-president and ex-treasurer of the Monmouth Trust Company of Asbury Park, who were convicted here last Friday for converting to their own use $7,000 of the William Mills estate, of which the trust company, prior to its failure last February, was executor and trustee, were sentenced to three years each in the State prison by County Judge Heisley to-

Counsel for the convicted men immediately presented a writ of error carrying the case to the Supreme Court for review. The writ operates as a stay and the defendants writ operates as a stay and the defendants will not begin to serve the sentence until the Appellate Court disposes of the case.

Prosecutor Noster gave notice that in the meantime he would move the trial of several other indictments pending against Twining and Cornell for alleged irregularities in connection with their management of the wrecked trust company.

Several indictments are also prophing

Several indictments are also pending against the men in the United States District Court at Trenton for alleged violations of the National Banking law, and one of them has been set for trial on Jan. 20. Both were released on $5,000 bail.

BILLIARDS.

Mulford Plays a Strong Game, and Defeats Canda in Tourney at Daly's.

M. Canda, playing 225, and P. W. Mulford, 300, were pitted against each other last night in the 18-inch balk-line tournament, two shots in, at Maurice Daly's Academy, Mulford winning, 300 to 161. The game began with the points coming slowly and much scattering of the balls. Canda was the first to hold them for any length of time and a couple of small double figure runs put him in the lead. He was not wanting in determination or persistency and had one or two set-ups to enlarge upon. Mulford took the lead in the eleventh inning. A little muscu-lar persuasion gathered the balls, and good nursing and good execution, when the balls eventually scattered, produced a run of 40, making the score 72 to 45 in Mulford's favor. Mulford's light touch brought forth another helpful yield of thirty-eight caroms in the eighteenth inning and made the score 128 to 78 in his favor. Canda had luck in making to 78 in his favor. Canda had luck in making for the finish of his first string. A run of 17 was terminated by the balls lining up and the miss of a difficult masse.

Mulford made a beautiful one cushion show in the twenty-fourth inning, the cue ball and first object ball being frozen to opposite corners at one end of the table. The second object ball was far down the table and in the open. Perfect execution solved the difficult situation. Mulford more than made up his handicap in the twenty-seventh inning with a splendid run of 80. The session was attractive for its all around excellence, and the smoothness with which it was done. There was no break or falter until carelessness on an easy shot stopped the counting. The long run made the score 226 to 114 in Mulford's favor. Some of the latter's short drives for position were marvels of accuracy, and he not only made the best run but the best average so far of the tournament. crowd of about fifteen hundred persons nostly skaters, were attracted to Olympia Field, 135th street and Lenox avenue, last night and they saw two good handicap races and a novice event. Some time ago the field was flooded over and the recent frosts developed a fine sheet of ice over which an eight lap track has been laid out. Though there was a partial thaw yesterday the ice was in fine condition

The first event was the mile handicap and it brought together a field of sixteen starters, with Maurice Wood of Brooklyn on the scratch mark. At the crack of the pistol Wood lost no time in going for his field and before four laps had been covered had the others well in hand. Meantime, young Otto Sarony and J. Stoltz had fallen. On the fifth lap Wood moved up to the front with Phil Kear-Wood moved up to the front with Phil Kegrney and trailed him until the bell rang when both spurted. Rounding the last bend for home, Wood struck a crack on the ice and stumbled. He could not quite recover himself and Kearney won by a yard in good time. Twelve skaters turned out for the two mile handicap with Wood again occupying the post of honor. This time he was within easy hailing distance of the leaders before half the distance was traversed and at the mile and a half took the lead and made the the pace for a while with Kearney. At the clang of the bell for the last lap Wood shot out and won as he liked by about a dozen yards.

Wanderers Easily Win From the Hockey Club in a League Game.

The Wanderers defeated the Hockey Club of New York in a league game at the St. Nicholas Skating Rink last night. 5 goals to their opponents 1. The Hockey Club team was weakened through the absence of Newberry and McKenzie, and substitutes, Gorman and Huntington, played in their places. Phillips went to cover point instead of forward. The game was an open one at first and then after about seven minutes of play Phillips made a hard rush and scored the only goal made by his side. Three minutes later Max Hornfeck scored from a scrimmage and just before the half ended Carruthers succeeded in sending the puck into the net. He made a high lift which Phillips tried to stop, but he only just touched the puck and it went into the cage.

In the second half the game was very rough. Clarke and Phillips were both sent to the bench and a little later Phillips was hit in the face and knocked out for a few minutes. Clarke, Carruthers and Gordon each scored and the game ended in a victory for the Wantheir places. Phillips went to cover point

The College of the Coly of New York hockey team met and defeated the Company A. Twenty-third Regiment team last night at the Germont Avenue Rink, Brooklyn. In the first half the collegians shut out the local men and scored a goal, Capt. E. Donoghue, on a pass from Tisney, making the goal. In the second period Tisney made a sensational goal, "lifting" the puck from the centre right into the soldiers' cage. R. Donoghue, on a pass from Spielmann, scored the last goal of the match for the City College team, the militiamen again being shut out, and losing the match by the score of 3 goals to 0.

MAUD S. HIGH WHEEL QUEEN

COMMITTEE DECIDES HER TIME OF 2:08 3-4 IS SUPREME.

Difference in Conditions of Lou Dillon's Trial Brought Out-Dirt Shield Records to Be Classified, So That Cresceus

he past was not affected by the decision of the joint committee called to pass upon he recent performances of Lou Dillon, Dan Patch and the other champions that have ollowed a runner and shield to new harness records. Maud S. is more secure than before in her place as queen of the turf to the high wheel sulky. Lou Dillon has not dethroned her, and by the ruling yesterday no trotter ever will that has already beaten 2:08% to the pneumatic wheels. Cresceus is still the king of the turf to the pneumatic sulky, with his record of 2:0214, and Star Pointer is still the pacing champion under the same

Lou Dillon is now the queen of the dirt shield records, and the committee orders that her mile in 1:581/2 shall be so classified. Dan Patch holds a similar honor among th pacing champions. Major Delmar is also a two-minute dirt shield champion, with his

The committee, consisting of Major P. P. ohnston, president of the National Trotting Association; W. P. Ijams, president of the American Trotting Association, and William Russell Allen, president of the American Trotting Register Association, appointed to pass upon the standing of the so-called wind shield records, met at the Murray Hill Hotel yesterday morning and listened to testimony bearing upon the subject. Incidentally they also listened to much that had no bearing upon the question to be decided.

Robert E. Bonner, son of Robert Bonner, who owned Maud S. when she made the world's record of 2:08% to high wheel sulky over a regulation track, was first heard nner had lodged a written protest with the American Trotting Association against the acceptance of the mile trotted by Lou Dillon to a high wheel sulky in 2:05 as a record. Mr. Bonner based his objections, first upon the fact that the event was announced as an attempt to beat the record of Maud S., 2:08%, over the same track on which t was made, and this announcement carried with it the obligation to make the attempt under the same conditions, so far as was possible or practicable.

Instead of doing this, a sulky with modern ball bearings was used, and a runner harnessed to a cart was sent in advance to protect Lou Dillon from the natural atmospheric resistance. Under these conditions, so entirely different from those attending the record mile of Maud S., Mr. Bonner held, it would be contrary to the letter and the spirit of the aw to accept the performance as a record. Charles Tanner, Mr. Billings's manager of x hibitions, appeared for the owner of Lou Dillon and denied emphatically that the advertised conditions of the performance record of Maud S. under the same conditions. His statement was that it was advertised to be an attempt to beat 2:08% to a high wheel surky; and, as this had been done, there was no reason why the performance should not accepted as a record.

Mr. Tanner admitted reluctantly that the bulky that Lou Dillon drew was fitted with modern ball bearing axles and that he had requested the builder when the order for the sulky was given to keep the matte from the press and the public. He sought to justify the use of the ball bearings by the charge that the sulky Maud S. drew was fitted with roller bearing hubs, and that it weighed twelve pounds less than the sulky drawn by Lou Dillon. Mr. Tanner also sought to cast discredit upon the statement that the sulky now in possession of Robert Bonner's sons was the one Maud S. drew.

In reply to a leading question by Major ohnston, Mr. Bonner established the fact the satisfaction of the committee that the sulky now at Bonner rarm was the one Maud S. had drawn, and also that it was not and had not been fitted with roller bearings, but had only a plain steel axle.

A. K. Devereux, representing the Cleveland Driving Park Association, added his testimony to that of Mr. Tanner that the advertised conditions did not state that Lou Dillon would be sent against the record of Maud 8., but only that she would be started to beat but only that she would be started to beat 2:08½ to high wheel sulky. Of course, he wanted the record to stand to the credit of the Cleveland track and supplant the gilt figures 2:08½ that have remained over the entrance gate since the time Maud S. thrilled the horse world with her unequalled performance.

Major Johnston, as chairman of the committee, rapped for order and stated that having heard sufficient evidence on the first question to be decided the committee was ready to take up the protest of Thomas B. Armitage against the acceptance of any and all so-called wind shield records. He asked Mr Armitage if he wished to be heard in person.

all so-called wind shield records. He asked Mr Armitage if he wished to be heard in person.

The framer of the resolution handed in a supplement, which was practically a digest of the original protest, citing the rules which in his opinion were violated by having the runner in advance to assist the performer by eliminating atmospheric resistance.

Charles Tanner vigorously denied that the advance runner and cart and strip of canvas, dirt shield he called it, had in any wav been a help to Lou Dillon in her wonderful flights of speed at different times. He explained to the committee that the mare was so anxious to carry her flight of speed to extremes that it was necessary to have a vehicle in front, to restrain her from over exertion, and thus be able to conserve her energies. This brought a broad smile to the faces of those present who had seen the mare at the Speedway when the owner drove her down through the crowd at speed holding the reins in one hand to show the thousands assembled how tractable the queen was.

Three hours had been consumed in listening to the different speakers when Major Johnston called a halt and stated that the committee would go into executive session. It took nearly two hours of deliberation—at least the committee remained behind closed doors for that length of time—before the following was given as the decision in the several cases:

"We find that the performance of Lou Dillon and the state of the high was leaded."

"We find that the performance of Lou Dillon t Cleveland on Sept. 12, 1903, to high wheel all-bearing sulky with a pacemaker with itt shields in front was not a record, because ne mare had previously performed in faster me, which performance was her record, nd preciuded a slower performance being a second.

and precluded a slower performance being a record.

"We also find the performance of Mand S. at Cleveland in 1885 was to a high wheel plain axle sulky, according to rule: that the time 2:081, was not only her best time, but the best time ever made up to that date and was a record.

"No record can be made with a wind shield other than the ordinary dirt shield and pacemaker in front. A performance with pacemaker in front with dirt shield shall be recorded with a distinguishing mark referring to a note stating the fact."

The effect of this ruling will be to leave Prince Alert with his record just as it was before he followed the wind shield at Empire track a mile in 1:57. Major Delmar trotted a mile the same day under the same conditions in 2:00, but he is saved because he followed a runner later at Memphis where a few inches less of canvas was used on the cart, a mile in 1:59\(\frac{1}{2}\). Lou Dillon has a record of 2:04\(\frac{1}{2}\) made in her wagon race against Major Delmar at Memphis and a dirt shield record of 1:58\(\frac{1}{2}\). Dan Patch has a record of 1:59\(\frac{1}{2}\) and a dirt shield record of 1:56\(\frac{1}{2}\). Mand S, is still queen of the turf to the high wheels.

NEW AUTO TRADE CLUB.

At an informal meeting of autombile dealers held recently it was decided that a trade club to be known as "The New York Automobile Trade Ciub" would be a good thing for the industry, the purpose to be similar to that of other trade clubs, such as the Hardware Club.
The first object sought was to have some common meeting place for lunch in the middle of the day, to which all the representative members of the New York automobile trade would be glad to come in order to become better acquainted with each other. This has been accomplished by preliminary arrangements with the Hotel Navarre, where a private dining room that will seat about seventy-five persons at one time has been obtained. A sitting room and special rates also have been secured.

The idea has been that this club shall be run the same as any other first class club; that officers and directors shall be elected, and that a good membership committee shall have charge of passing upon applicants.

The organization meeting will be held at the Hotel Navarre on Monday, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. has been accomplished by preliminary arLady Matchiess Disqualified for Foul Frank Rice-Two Favorites Win.

The heavy storm of last night and early morning left the track heavy and very sticky. It also played havoc with the card. The seven furlong handicap which was put down as the day's feature was the event that suffered the most through withdrawals. St Tammany, from the Strode stable, was played down from 3 to 1 to 7 to 5. Plunger Ellison backed his Kingston gelding, King Croker, and made no secret of the fact that thought he would win. King Croker was the opening favorite at 2 to 1, but was at 9 to 5 at post time. St. Tammany attempted to make a runaway race of it and showed in front going down the backstretch. Unfortunately for the backers of the Strode gelding Davison took him into the heavy going about this time and king Croker, under a careful and able ride at the hands of Phillips, secured the lead. From the time the Ellison gelding assumed command he was never headed and won in a gallop by five lengths. St. Tammany's effort in the heavy going told on him greatly in the final furlong and Clangor managed to beat him out for the place. at 9 to 5 at post time. St. Tammany attempted

More Entries for Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps.

More entries were received yesterday for the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps, Fred Rehberger, secretary of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, receiving the following lot for the Brooklyn: John Madden's three-year-old Brooklyn: John Madden's three-year-old Robin Hood, which he purchased from James R. Keene last fall; Gettysburg, Pulsus and the five-year-old City Bank; G. L. Richards's Ostrich and New York: C. E. Rowe's Colonial Girl, G. Hendrie's Reservation, Mrs. L. Curtis's Eugenia Burch and Mrs. R. Bradley's Peter Paul. Rehberger states that nearly all of the stakes have filled about the same as last year, although the Far West is yet to be heard from.

The Coney Island Jockey Club also received quite a number of entries for the Suburban and gave out the following additional ones, which brings the number up to seventy-six; John Madden's Robin Hood, Pulsus, Adbelf, Aristocracy, Gettysburg, and City Bank: F. Gebhard's Raglun, W.W. Darden's Monsieur Beaucaire and Mrs. L. Curtis's Fugenia Burch, Almost a hundred more entries were received for the Futurity of 1996, and the number of entries to that race is now 936.

TURFMEN TALK OF THE BIG HAN-DICAP ENTRIES.

The First Tip of the Year Is Hamburg Belle to Win the Metropolitan-Sunday Ball Has Already Been Tested in the Local Courts-Sharkey Nearly Fit to Fight.

Turfmen who gossiped a the Hoffman

House yesterday were unanimous in de-claring the entries for the Suburban Handicap to be the best ever received by the Coney Island Jockey Club. No such array of star or an Eastern classic and, barring acciients, the race bids fajr to attrac more attention than ever before. It is, of course, highly improbable that all of the stars will go to the post, but with conditions favorable. and all of them ready to race, just imagine for a moment what would happen if Water-boy, Hermis, McChesney, Gunfire Africander, Irish Lad, Savable, Acefull, Major Daingerfield, Highball and Hamburg Belle, for instance, should all go to the post As soon as the weights are announced the future books will be ready for business. In the opinion of horsemen, Waterboy may rule favorite with a slight advantage over Mchesney, Africander standing very close to Big Mac and Hermis heading the others. It is probable that the future books, especially hose made on the Suburban, will handle more money than in any previous year, and for that matter a prominent Chicago layer has already stated that he is prepared The Brighton Handicap is also sure to be another great race this year, as all of the stars named above are entered, but some of them, after defeat, will be withdrawn, no doubt, leaving the others to fight it out for the title of champion, a matter that remains omething of a problem until the sport gets under way at the Beach. The absence of Waterboy from the Brooklyn Handicap will serve to increase the hopes of other owners who have entered high class horses. Water boy will be handled with great care this spring, owing to the lameness which he developed during the Morris Park fall meeting. Jack Joyner says that the Watercress horse will not appear in a race until June at the earliest, and that he will be pointed for the Suburban. The Brooklyn Handicap without Waterboy will no doubt be a more ineresting affair than last year, for the entry ist just published shows that there is an will have no easy task in making the weight allotments. The entries for the Metropolitan Handicap will not be announced for time yet, as they do not close until later on. W. M. Sheft el, the young Wall Street man who enjoyed the distinction of owning Highoall, the champion two year old colt las season, has practically decided to start the olt in the $25,000 American Derby. Sheftel believes that Highball will develop into a second Africander or Irish Lad and that he has a royal chance to win one of the

has already been tipped about the Broadway Paddock as the winner of the Metropolitan Handicap, chiefly because she is an early mare and a phenomenally fast goer in the mud. Yet the men who are tipping her do not even know what weight she will carry. Those who are making loud protests about the playing of Sunday ball games in 'freater New York possibly forget that the law has been tested in the courts and that by a decision handed down last summer the New York National League team, under Mc iraw, played the first Sunday game in the history of the club at Olympia Park, 135th street and Lenox avenue. No admission was charged to the grounds, the law being obeyed to the letter, but the sale of score cards at 25 cents each netted a good round sum. All of the Sunday games played here last season were free to the public, with the score card on the side. A well known lawyer who has looked into the matter carefully said yesterday that so long as the strict letter of the law was not violated there could be no interference with Sunday ball provided for the masses. The decision of the National Baseball Commission overruling the protest of the Brooklyn club against Sunday games by the New York Americans at Ridgewood may possibly cause a feeling of resentment among certain National League magnates toward Messrg. Herrmann and Pulliam, who voted with Ban Johnson on the question. Ebbets has already protested Herrmann's ruling. But be that as it may, baseball men have as yet heard no protest from John T. Brush, president of the New York National League Club, who has been fighting the local Americans, on various lines, ever since the location of the new club here was an big handicaps in the spring. The champion

two year old filly of 1903, Hamburg Beile

Tom Sharkey runs around Central Park every day at full speed, in preparation for his coming mill with Jack Munroe. The SUN man saw the able seaman as he was tearing up Fifth avenue yesterday morning. Sharkey pulled up for a moment to say:

"I guess I won't be in shape, eh? My wind is getting great and I feel as strong as a bull. I weigh 190 now and never felt better in my life. When I get into the ring with Munroe I'll be just as good as when I fought Jeffries twenty-five rounds at Coney Island. I'll beat Munroe quickly, for I will outfight him and outpunch him from the jump. Good day!" ood day!" And the able seaman galloped off through the snow banks at a speedy clip. Munroe evidently will have his hands full if such vigorous training as Sharkey is doing amounts to anything. Ice hockey as played in local rinks has grown immensely popular. There is almost as much enthusiasm and partisanship as there is in New England these cold winter evenings over the roller polo games, which have been annual indoor fixtures for a decade. Roller polo, by the way, has been a failure almost everywhere outside of New England, probably because of poor management and a lack of playing talent.

George Foster Sanford, the well known football coach, is reported to be ill at his home in Brooklyn, suffering from pneumonia. Sanford is a graduate of Yale, where he played on the 'varsity eleven several years ago. He coached the Columbia eleven for two years, but of late has been devoting his time to private business. He is a typical athlete and has many friends in the college world.

Six Players in International Tournament on the Other Side.

Arnous de Rivière, the manager of the oming international chess masters' tournament, cabled from Paris vesterday that the contest had been scheduled to begin on Feb. 1, with Marshall, Marco, Schlechter, Swiderski, Maroczy and Gunsberg as competitors in a double round tourney. At the finish of this contest an international Rice gambit tournament, with additional entries, will be arranged. Prof. Isaac L. Rice, the president of the congress, cabled to Rivière yesterday that his health would not permit him to make the trip to Monte Carlo, hence the honorary president, Prince Dadian of Mingrelin, will take his place. In addition to the expenses of the competitors 5,000 francs will be dis-tributed in the first named contest and 2,500 francs in the other. The winner of the six-cornered event will also receive the silver challenge cup, to hold for one year. At the monthly meeting of the directors of the Manhattan Chess Club on Tuesday even-ing it was decided to ask the president, Aristides Martinez, to appoint a reception committee for the arrangement of social functions after the arrival of the European chess experts in this city. About nine are expected to arrive here on April 14-the masters who will take part in the international tournament at Cambridge Springs, Pa. The directors also decided to hold the annual dinner of the club on April 16 and to invite all the European and American competitors. NOTES.

The tenth and final game of the match between Janowski and Taubenhaus, played in Paris, was won by the former and the final score read: Jan owski, 5; Taubenhaus, 1; drawn, 1. owski. 5; Taubenhaus, 1; drawn, 1.
Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton have issued a challenge to Oxford and Cambridge for another cable chess match for the Rice trophy.

The Brooklyn Chess Club has decided to play the cable chess match with Great Britain after the Monte Carlo congress. This is in order to enable Marshall to play on the American team. The latter will be a competitor at Monte Carlo.

Jacques Mieses, the German chess expert, was last heard of in Milwaukee, where he entertained the members of the local club in a simultaneous exhibition. Mieses is due here to-morrow and will leave for Monte Carlo next Saturday. Harry N. Pillsbury, the American champion, will play against fifteen members of the New York Athlette Club blindfolded and simultaneously on as many boards on Saturday next. The European players who are to take part in the Cambridge Springs tournament have been informed that their passage from Europe has been secured on the Hamburg American liner Pretoria, to leave Hamburg on April 2.

THE FUR AND FEATHER SHOW dmirers of Poultry and Pet Stock at the Society and country folks were abo evenly represented in the attendance at the show of the New York Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association yesterday at Madison Square Garden. The professional exhibitors, with the friendliness that is resumed once the judging is over with, set about in groups and made trades for new birds to freshen up their stocks, and when an amateur fancier butted every effort was made to induce a cash sale. The brooders were filled with young chicks, their cheepings almost drowning the trills of the songbirds, and, with the cavies, rabbits and cats, the fledgling fowl did not lack for admirers. One of the visitors was T. E. Orr, of Beaver, Pa., who is to have charge of the world's fair poultry show at St.

The cages of the cats in the annex were decked with flowers and ribbons, the losers and winners being decorated with equal partiality, for their feminine owners are not mere fair weather friends to their pets. The Atlantic Cat Club's judges, H. F. Vidal, Mrs. Dosch and Dr. Walker, made good progress in the awards of specials. The Hof-stra trophy was awarded to Mrs. Julius Copperberg's long haired cream cat, The Commo dore, for the best of American breeding shown, and the special for the best in the show was awarded to the masked silver female Kushka, an imported cat, owned by Mrs. C. B. Brayton of Brighton, Mass. It is very seldom that a female beats the males at a cat show for the highest honors but Kushka scored so heavily in coat, size and general character that there were no protests over the judgment.

In other instances the judgments were not so thoroughly indorsed, notably in long haired silver tabbies, in the female class, in which Argent Puff Ball, winner of many cups at Rochester and other shows, was beaten by her daughter, Rolley I. Both are owned by the Perso Cattery, however, so the blue ribbon stayed at home. Miss Pollard's Purity, an imported female Angora, was pronounced the best of the white cats, lard's Purity, an imported female Angora, was pronounced the best of the white cats, another instance of a victory over the males. The "for sale" placard was displayed on many of the cat cages. The winters were held at $150 to $100, but there did not seem to be a very active market.

Aside from the poultry sharps, the casual visitors seemed to find the greatest pleasure in the oddities, such as the frizzled bantams, the long haired ginea pigs and the quaint pygmy pouter pigeons, but there was always a crowd around the incubators and brooders. The turkeys, represented by noble bronze and white specimens and two slate colored ones, also attracted much attention. Every one seemed on friendly terms with them.

Many of the specialty clubs held their annual meetings during the day and evening, and in most instances appropriations of money were voted to insure a good display at the St Louis fair.

The American Buff Leghorn Club elected Thomas Peer, Fairfield, N. J., as president; John J. Craig, Arlington, N. J., as Eastern and Charles M. Clough, Olympia, Wash., as Western vice-president, and George S. Barnes, Battle Creek, Mich., as secretary and treasurer.

T. A. Havemeyer was reelected president of the American Exhibition Game and Game Bantam Club. R. D. Winthrop and C. W. Hoyt of Nashua, N. H., were elected vice-presidents, and Charles F. Cornman, Carlisle, Pa., secretary and treasurer.

Corbett came to Britt's terms, so annious is he to meet the California lightweight. Corbett agreed to fight at 130 pounds at 6 o'clock. This is the giving of one pound by Corbett, who has held out all along for 129 pounds at 6 o'clock.

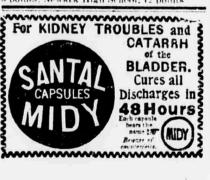

It was agreed that Garney should be the referee and that the fight should be held in February, but the club was not selected. The men agreed not to engage in any fight before this match, but the date is left uncertain because the new Board of Supervisors has not yet granted permits for fights. Manager Goffroth of the Hayes Valley Athletic Club will probably get the fight, as he has already made a bid of $20,000, but the fighters preferred a percentage of the receipts. They have agreed to divide the purse, 65 per cent to the winner and 35 to the loser. to the winner and 35 to the le Patterson, who is president of the New York Nautical College, has prepared a bill for the relief of mates, which he read at the meeting and which he will present in person at the annual meeting of the Board of United States Supervising Inspectors of Steam Vessels, to be held in Washington on Jan. 29. He said that he would, at that time, in an address to the inspectors, ask them to consider yachting service as equivalent to service in the merchant service.

Capt. Pruett, an ex-president of the association, also declared that it would be better not to consider yachting as a special service, but to request the inspectors to place it on a par with the merchant service. The yacht engineers purpose sending a delegate to Washington in their interest.
